THE BUYING PROCESS

Make an offer:

Your real estate professional should be an expert in the area where you want to live and be familiar with the type of home you want to buy. Your Hyland agent has experience in your neighborhood and can offer the best advice on homes in your range.

Get prequalified:

Your Lender will look at your income, credit scores and revolving debts, as well as the type of loan you choose. Another factor that impacts how much you can buy is your down payment; smaller down payments mean higher monthly payments. The interest rate and terms (30-year or 15-year fixed or adjustable rate) will determine what you can afford in monthly payments. If you are paying cash, your agent will advise you regarding a proof of funds statement.

Make your wish list:

Decide where you want to live and how many bedrooms and baths you'll need. Also consider what type of space, privacy, yard maintenance and exterior you would prefer.

View Properties:

No home is perfect, so don't let minor flaws influence you. Think long-term. Which home best suits the activities and needs of your household now and in the years ahead? Don't buy more than you need or can comfortably afford.

Select a Hyland Agent:

Your offer depends on the current market. If a home has been on the market a long time, there may be room to negotiate, but if it's recently on the market, the seller is unlikely to accept a lower offer. Ask your real estate agent for advice.

Get an inspection:

We recommend a home, termite and well inspection (when applicable). A home inspection provides a professional third party opinion on the home's condition. The inspector will point out the age of systems and large and small repairs that are needed, so you'll know what you are facing as the next owner.

Get an appraisal:

The bank appraisal determines market value. If the home doesn't appraise for the purchase price, the bank will refuse to issue the loan unless you renegotiate with the seller. If it appraises, the lender will move toward closing.

You're ready to move into your new home.

CREATING A WISH LIST

Make a list of must-have features so you can narrow your home search. A front porch, a two-car garage, hardwood floors, and an eat-in kitchen can all add to the enjoyment of your home. Just as important is how your home is designed. The number of bedrooms and baths should suit your household members, and the layout should suit your lifestyle. If you like to entertain, you should have plenty of dining space and storage for dishes and cookware. If you frequently work at home, you'll need a home office or at least a quiet designated workspace. Make sure the home you choose allows room for your family to grow or shrink as needed.

After you talk to your lender and determine how much of a loan you qualify for, talk with your Hyland agent about the home you have in mind. With professional guidance, you should be able to find and buy the home of your dreams, where you'll be happy for a long time to come.

UNDERSTANDING YOUR BUDGET

Before starting your home search process, it is important to evaluate your financial situation, confirm your budget and familiarize yourself with mortgage options.

AFFORDABILITY

Your monthly payments should be comfortable for you to handle, in relationship to your total obligations - about 28% of gross monthly income. Your house payment and your debts should not exceed 36% of your income, including revolving credit, student loans and child support. You should also be in the correct loan for your needs. A fixed rate is more expensive, but offers more protection than an adjustable rate mortgage that can reset to a higher amount, making your monthly payments higher.

Working with your real estate agent and your lender, you will evaluate:

- How much financing you can qualify for
- Your credit history and credit score
- How much you will need for a down payment
- Items included in your mortgage payment
- Possible financing choices
- Current interest rates

In addition to the mortgage payment, additional costs to take into account when determining your budget include:

- Monthly HOA Payments (if applicable)
- Property taxes
- Insurance
- Utilities
- Commuting costs

PREPARING AN OFFER

Once the right home has been found, your Hyland agent will confer with you to prepare an offer to purchase. The details of the offer typically include:

- The price you are offering to pay for the home
- Inclusions - items you identify as included in the sale such as appliances, lighting fixtures, and window coverings
- Amount of your earnest money deposit
- Closing date
- Contingencies upon which the contract becomes final – such as satisfactory inspection and financing approval

Buyers should be aware that the offer is a binding, legal document and indicates a serious intent to purchase. While there are safeguards that are built in for the buyer, when you decide to make an offer on a home, you must be ready to buy.

Your offer may be accepted right away, or there may be negotiations. Once the offer has been submitted, the seller can respond by accepting or rejecting your offer, or by countering your offer with a different price, closing date, or other terms. The process of negotiation will continue until both parties agree or decide that an agreement will not be reached. Your Hyland agent will provide you with guidance and expertise in the negotiation process. Once the terms are agreeable, both the buyer and the seller sign the completed contract, which is then considered a purchase agreement and your earnest money will be sent to the escrow agent's office. The earnest money deposit is an important part of the home buying process. It shows the seller that you are a committed buyer. These deposited funds will be applied to your down payment at closing.

CLOSING ON THE HOME

As closing day nears, your Hyland agent will monitor the progress with your lender to avoid last-minute issues that could arise. You can expect to be in regular communication with your escrow/title company, lender, and agent throughout the process.

CLOSING FEES:

Your lender will provide you with a loan estimate at the beginning of the loan process and a closing disclosure at the end. Closing costs will include items such as lender fee, title company fee, and transaction recording fee. Additional fees can include, but are not limited to, prepaid taxes and homeowners insurance. Closing costs vary by lender, so we always suggest getting an estimate from your lender.

On the day of closing:

A final walkthrough with your agent on the days leading up to closing gives you the opportunity to confirm that the house is in the same condition that it was when the contract was signed. It will also give you the opportunity to confirm that all repairs or modifications agreed to be done by the sellers have been completed.

Bring a current photo ID.

Your lender will be in contact with you prior to closing with final figures. Bring a cashiers check/electronic transfer as specified by the title company for the amount due made payable to the title company.

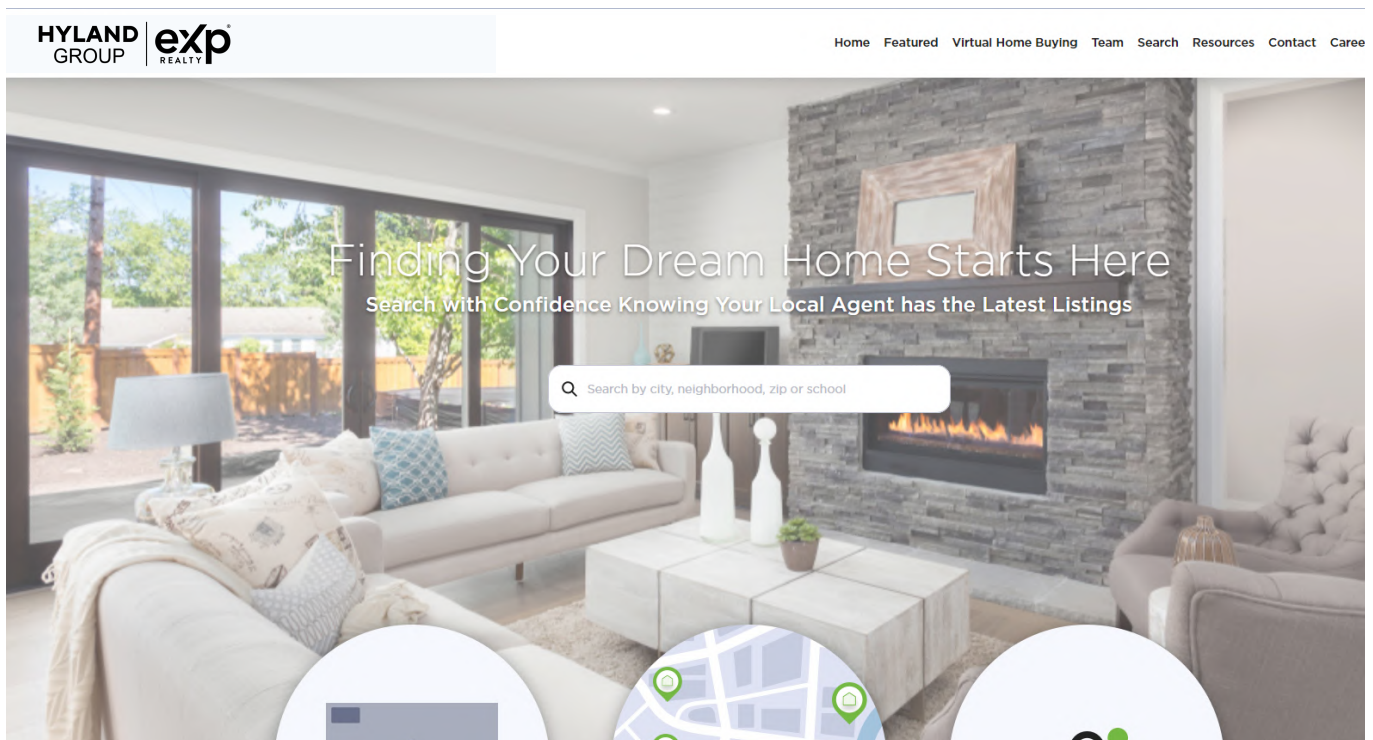

At the closing you will verify and sign all paperwork to complete the transaction and pay all required closing costs and fees. At the conclusion of the closing, legal property ownership is recorded with the county, you legally take possession and are given the keys.
